FRESH SNOW, FRESH LOOK AT THE PEAKS RESORT & GOLDEN DOOR SPA
FOR SKI SEASON 2008 – 09

Telluride Resort Updates Accommodations and Spa, Reopens Appaloosa Restaurant

TELLURIDE, Colo. – Nov. X, 2008 – More than 27 inches of new snow blankets the Telluride area, bringing the promise of stellar skiing at The Peaks Resort & Golden Door Spa (www.ThePeaksResort.com), which features a revitalized ambiance this season. New for winter, the resort has refurbished all guestrooms and will reopen the doors of the popular Appaloosa restaurant – these enhancements accompany a recent update to the Golden Door Spa facilities and the unveiling of a new series of ultra-luxe cabins and penthouses. To cap-off the re-energized vibe, The Peaks offers seasonal deals with rates starting from $129 per room, per night available through April 4, 2009.

Accommodation Upgrade: The Peaks Resort has completed a cosmetic refurbishment of all guestrooms and suites. Guests will enjoy a fresh experience, with rooms that are brighter, bolder and more inviting, incorporating textures and materials evocative of Telluride’s rustic beauty. The revitalization includes new furnishings and light fixtures, fresh paint and new luxury bedding, pillows and duvets. Spacious and comfortable guestrooms will continue to offer a unique mountain ambiance with plenty of ample wood accents and private balconies or patios with views of the surrounding peaks and Mountain Village.

Tasty Mountain Fare: The Appaloosa Steakhouse returns to The Peaks Resort this winter, serving up hearty American mountain cuisine inspired by the resort’s rugged Western setting. Diners can feast on savory chops, poultry and seafood, along with sumptuous side items and delectable desserts. Located on the resort’s lower level, Appaloosa mixes casual western chic with mountain elegance and features magnificent views of the surrounding San Juan Mountains. An expansive outdoor deck furnished with heaters and a blazing fireplace provides a comfortable respite for pre- and post-dinner cocktails. Appaloosa steakhouse opens on Nov. 27, 2008 and will serve dinner and cocktails from 5:30 – 9:30 p.m., Tuesday – Saturday throughout the ski season.

Luxury Cabins Unveiled: New for this ski season, The Peaks has debuted a series of luxury cabins available for rent nightly. Located adjacent to the resort’s main lodge, the new Summit Cabins and Penthouses at See Forever Village at The Peaks encompass 28 spacious, multi-bedroom units styled with the utmost comfort in mind. Each unit features one-of-a-kind custom décor along with state-of-the-art conveniences such as full-size kitchen with Subzero refrigerators, flat-screen televisions, in-floor radiant heating and superior communication technology. All units offer amazing views of the nearby San Juan Mountains. Guests of See Forever Village also enjoy access to the amenities and services of The Peaks Resort. Winter rates start from $2,699 per night.

Golden Door Spa Redux: The renowned Golden Door Spa at The Peaks completed a $2 million enhancement program last winter to update décor and streamline the spa offerings. Highlights of the refresh included refurbished treatment rooms, updated state-of-the-art fitness equipment, new Yoga and Pilates studios and refinished pool and deck surfaces. In addition, Golden Door Spa at The Peaks menu now offers alpine inspired treatments and expanded fitness classes.

At an elevation of 9,500 ft., The Peaks offers convenient ski-in/ski-out access to Telluride Ski Resort where 1,700 acres of pristine powder-packed terrain await skiers of all skill levels. Non-skiers can enjoy the outdoors via a host of other snow sports available at the resort, including snowboarding, dog-sledding, snowshoeing and snowmobiling. Heli-skiing and snow-biking can also be arranged through the concierge.

Rates referenced are based on availability and some blackout dates apply. Taxes and resort fees are not included in these rates. Winter non-stop flights are available into Telluride Regional Airport daily from Denver and Phoenix, or into Montrose Regional Airport from Denver, Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago, Houston, Newark, Salt Lake City and Los Angeles.
